

RCS to host annual Coffee House Jam

BY MORGAN WINSTEAD
BULLHORN REPORTER

On Nov. 15, Roxboro Community School (RCS) will once again host the Coffee House Jam for the 2017-2018 school year.

The Coffee House Jam is an annual event comprised of performing singers, guitarists and pianists.

There will be coffee, drinks, cupcakes, cookies, and snacks served at the event. Students, faculty, staff, and parents are invited to attend.

The event will start at 3:15 p.m. and will be held in the multipurpose room at RCS.

There will be a $5 cover charge.

Depending on the time of year, the size of the audience varies.

The RCS Art Club will host this event and all proceeds will go to purchasing supplies for art club projects.

Teachers Phillip Gillis, Keegan Storrs and Ashley Bailey will all be performing this year.

SARA COATES

RCS teacher receives grant

Rachel Benedict and Abigail Krein with Piedmont Electric Membership Corporation visited Roxboro Community School (RCS) Friday, Oct. 20 to present Bailey the Bright Ideas Grant and to applaud her innovative teaching practices. Bailey plans to use the $1,427 she was awarded to improve biology labs. Pictured holding the sign is Ashley Bailey, RCS biology teacher.

KAREN BUTLER

RCS volleyball raises money for cancer awareness

The RCS varsity volleyball team recently delivered $3,204 to the Belk Boutique's Self Image Program at Duke Cancer Institute. The team held a Dig Pink Night during a volleyball game, and also sold t-shirts to raise the funds. "Visiting the Duke Cancer hospital was so eye opening, because, I guess you don't realize how many people it affects until you walk by all of the rooms with names on them. Being able to give money that we raised doing something we love, playing volleyball, was so rewarding. We got to give so many women wigs or hats or scarves to wear after they fight cancer, and we may never know how much that means to them, but we were just happy to be a part of it," said Jordan Taylor, RCS senior volleyball player. The team chose to raise money for the Belk Boutique because several members of the Bulldog family are battling or have defeated cancer.

Roxboro Community School joins Global #GivingTuesday Movement

BY SARA COATES
BULLHORN REPORTER

at <https://www.facebook.com/RoxboroCS/>.

Roxboro Community School (RCS) has joined #GivingTuesday, a global day of giving that harnesses the collective power of individuals, communities and organizations to encourage philanthropy and to celebrate generosity.

Occurring this year on Nov. 28, #GivingTuesday is held on the Tuesday after Thanksgiving in the U.S., and the recognized shopping events Black Friday and Cyber Monday to kick off the holiday giving season and inspire people to back charities and causes.

RCS hopes #GivingTuesday will encourage the community to continue supporting the school through monetary donations to the Raise the Roof campaign, athletics, clubs, or general funding. The gift of time is also appreciated.

Those who are interested in joining RCS's #GivingTuesday initiative can visit www.roxborocs.org or the school Facebook page

Those interested in donating to the Raise the Roof capital campaign should contact Director of Development Phyllis Boatwright at boatwrightpa@roxborocs.org or call 336-597-0020, ext. 220.

Supporters may also contact volunteer coordinator Carrie Hawkins at hawkinscb@roxborocs.org or by phone at 336-597-0020, ext. 114 to learn how to volunteer or donate items.

For more details about the #GivingTuesday movement, visit www.givingtuesday.org, Facebook page, <https://www.facebook.com/GivingTuesday>.

"We greatly appreciate all the community does for us here at RCS. The students and staff greatly benefit from donations that are so generously given to our school. Please consider donating to RCS on Giving Tuesday so we may continue to do great things here at Roxboro Community School," said Dave Ebert, managing executive director of RCS.

PHOTOS BY MADISON FULLER

Halloween strikes RCS

While wandering around the hallways on Halloween, the RCS Bulldogs were everything but bulldogs. Pictured are some of the best-dressed seniors.